

The Distribution of the FRENCH surname in England in the 14th Century (n=191)

based on Figure 3.4b from The Surname Detective

by Colin D Rogers, Manchester University Press, 1995

"FRENCH in the fourteenth century was almost entirely confined to the area south of a line from Gloucester to Norwich, six hundred years having made little difference to the main pattern of distribution ..." Colin D Rogers. A question mark indicates data not available. Numbers indicate frequency of occurrence. For a discussion of source of such data read Colin Rogers' book.

Created by Chris N French using GenMap UK from www.archersoftware.co.uk, 5 Apr 2006.

